HAVE LIST

Imagine you are leaving your home, forever. You can take everything you own. Make a list. Anything not on this list you can never have access to again. Even if you don't want it...list it! List everything that you own (you bought it, given to you as a gift, found it, or you reasonably could take with you from your house). Next to each item, write down the approximate price YOU would pay for that item if you saw it at a garage sale.

NEED LIST

Make a list of EVERYTHING you would need to get to live on your own (minus the things on your "have list." Think of everything! Go through each room of your house and think of everything you use. Next to each item write the approximate price you would pay for that item new, in a store.
